PPG High Performance Coatings Color Selector High Performance Tinting System

Color chips are affected to some degree by the type of light in which they are viewed, exposure to heat and light rays, also the age of the chip itself. Therefore, there may be a slight difference between the color and sheen of the chip shown and the actual paint when applied to a surface.